Triop No. 3 of the Boy Scouts went to San Fernando Sunday to put on a program for the veterans hospital inmates, and from all reports of it, the boys surely made a "go" of the program.
Harwood Clark repeated the talk that won him second place in the oratorical contest last year, on the subject "Why I Believe in Scouting."

When the curtain was pulled back, the Scouts were on the stage in formation, and then they repeated the Scout rules and vows. Next was a knot tying contest, and every knot was then explained. A demonstration of friction fire was given by Charles Ruppel, and the program was concluded with the skit "The Shooting of Dan McGrew." Harwood Clark read the poem, and the rest of the troop acted it out.

The boys made the trip in a truck loaned by the Tolson Transportation Co. and driven by A. W. Greiner.
Thirty-three members of Troop No. 3 of Torrance were guests of the Torrance Rotary Club last Monday at the Lomita Theatre. The picture was the "World War."

The troop was guests of Wilmington Troop No. 3 last Wednesday evening. Contests were knot tying and problem first aid. Games were played and refreshments were served. The boys all had a good time.

Frederick Carier who met with an accident last week is able to be up and around now.

The following new officers have been appointed for the troop: George Lancaster, patrol leader, and Robert Anderson, assistant patrol leader for the Eagle patrol; Jesse Norone, patrol leader and Melvin Howard, assistant patrol leader for the Fox patrol; Elwyn Jarrett, scribe for the troop. The boys will serve for a period of six months.

I says to Hudd
These young folks sure have it different from what we did don't they?
And Hudd says: one sure sign you're getting old is when you start talking about the way the young folks carry on.

And I says I'm not talking about them, carrying on. And what about golf? Ain't that another sure sign.
But anyway, what I started to say, was that we used to sit in a barrel stave hammock when you used to come to see me on Sunday afternoons. And now look at the nice comfortable furniture most people have in their homes.

And Hudd says yeh, a good davenport or some overstuffed chairs are sure great competition to the movies when it comes to attracting the kids.

And I says yes, and it ain't so hard for the old ones to rest their weary bones in either.

Lighting Plans Ready-Leonard
Maps and Specifications Will Go Out Next Week
City Engineer Frank Leonard announced today that detailed maps and specifications for the proposed lighting system in Torrance are all completed and will go forward next week to all the lighting contractors and light post companies, who in turn will submit guaranteed estimates of the cost of installation. After these guaranteed estimates have been received the council will decide on a type of post or one designed by the city itself and petitions asking that lights be installed will be circulated. Under this arrangement any property-owner will be able to tell exactly how much lights will cost him before he signs a petition asking for them.

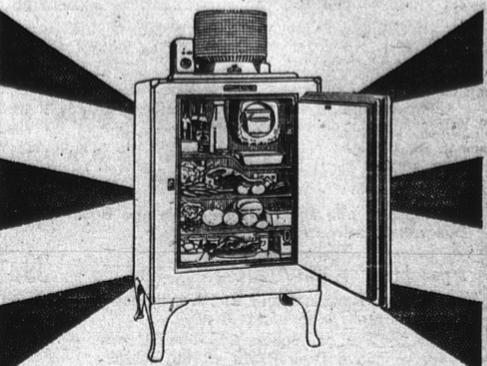

Mayor Dennis explained today that the reason the plans were not put into execution before election was because the council did not wish to take any action on such an important matter when the personnel of the incoming board was not known. "We didn't want to start something which somebody else, who might not agree with the plan, might have to finish," said the mayor.
